

#215 Christ in the Gospels
Pastoral Mentorship Program
Western Reformed Seminary
John A. Battle, Th.D.
2006-2007 Academic Year

COURSE INFORMATION

Welcome!

Welcome to the Pastoral Mentorship Program course in Christ in the Gospels. This course is designed to give you a detailed knowledge of the background and sources for the life of Christ on earth, and of his life itself. You will be working on three main projects during the year, in preparation for your two terms of concentrated study and review we will conduct in January and in May/June. These three projects consist of (1) study of the course syllabus, including two exams over its contents, (2) reading assignments in standard works about Jesus and his life, and (3) a special assignment chosen by you from a list of possibilities. Each of these items is described below. During your work on these three projects, you will be able to discuss this material and ask questions from your professor or from your local mentor.

(1) The course syllabus and testing

Read through the syllabus carefully. As you do so, look up the indicated Bible passages. Notice that at the beginning of the syllabus there are study questions. These questions follow the order of the syllabus, and will aid you in summarizing the items you need to remember for the tests. There are two tests that will be given to you during the time you study this syllabus. The first test covers Study Questions #1-38, and the second test covers Study Questions #39-64. The two tests will consist of some of those exact questions; the number in parentheses after each question is the number of points that each question is worth, and normally tells you how many items should be in your answer. When you are prepared to take them, these tests will be administered to you under the supervision of your Mentor or a person designated by him.

(2) Reading assignment

The following books are to be read. There will be no separate testing on these books, but you will be asked if you have read them with attention.

- the four Gospels, in two different translations
- E. F. Harrison, Introduction to the New Testament, ch. 5-9; OR Donald Guthrie, New Testament Introduction, ch. 1-8; OR D. A. Carson, Douglas J. Moo, and Leon Morris, An

Introduction to the New Testament, ch. 1-5 (You may choose any of these standard NT introductions to read from; you will be assigned other portions from this introduction in the other NT classes, so that the whole book will be read as the NT curriculum at WRS is completed.)

- James Stalker, The Life of Jesus Christ
- E. F. Harrison, A Short Life of Christ
- Robert B. Strimple, The Modern Search for the Real Jesus
- Robert L. Thomas and Stanley N. Gundry, The NIV Harmony of the Gospels, including Prefaces, Explanation, and all the Essays (The second half of the syllabus is keyed to this book's outline.)

(3) Special assignment

You may choose one of the following. Please obtain approval by the professor for the particular special assignment you choose.

- Read a scholarly book concerning some aspect of the course and write a two-page review and critique.
- Translate one chapter of your choice from each of the four Gospels.
- Write a five-page research paper on some controversial question of interpretation in the Gospels.
- Prepare a series of at least five sermon or Bible lesson outlines on a part of the life of Jesus.

Grading

The final grade will consist of the following:

Class participation	20%
Reading	25%
Special assignment	15%
Midterm examination	20%
Final examination	20%

Suggested assignment schedule

During the first summer:

- Read 4 gospels in 2 translations
- Read NT Introduction section
- Read Stalker

During September:

- Read Harrison

During October:

- Read Strimple

During November/December:

- Work through course notes, ch. 1-4
- Take midterm exam

During January/February:

- Do special assignment

During April/May:

- Read Thomas and Gundry
- Work through class notes, ch. 5-14

May/June:

- PMP Concentrated Classes

During June:

- Final Examination